Project Connect Silent Auction 10/11/22

CHWP students raised funds to assist people experiencing poverty or homelessness.

Project Connect: River's Edge Center 10/27/22

CHWP students and faculty organized community event to help connect homeless population to local support services. The event hosted local agencies, and was visited by hundreds of community members. We are grateful to President Wacker, and our MN state representatives who support us. Project Connect is organized by Bridge to Community Resources.

Edited by Aerial A. Ashlee and Lisa Delacruz Combs

Foreword by MARC JOHNSTON-GUERRERO
Afterword by ELISA S. ABES

Exciting news! Dr. Aerial A. Ashlee edited this newly published book.

Dr. Ashlee (she/her/hers) is an Assistant Professor of College Counseling and Student Development at St. Cloud State University. She teaches multicultural counseling, student affairs professional orientation and ethics, group process and facilitation dynamics, among other courses.

Congratulations Dr. Ashlee!

Dr. Phyllis A. Greenberg has earned “Fellow status” (FAGHE) in the Academy for Gerontology in Higher Education (AGHE) and will be honored at the Gerontological Society of America’s Annual Meeting in early November.

Dr. Rona J. Karasik is this year’s recipient of the Academy for Gerontology in Higher Education (AGHE) Hiram J. Friedsam Mentorship Award. This award recognizes individuals who have contributed to gerontological and/or geriatric education through excellence in mentorship to students, faculty, and administrators.

Dr. Karasik will be presenting “Full Circle: Mentoring in Gerontology & Geriatric Education” for her award lecture at the Gerontological Society of America’s annual meeting in November.

Textbook costs are real!

The Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) Graduate program at SCSU has partnered with CareMore and their initiative for removing one barrier for BIPOC students, so more mental health professionals can enter the field. Program director, Tina M Sacin reached out to Andrea & John Hutchinson with Care Counseling to invite them to expand their reach to SCSU's Clinical Mental Health Counseling Graduate program. They agreed. Jensi Ocampo Soto was the first SCSU recipient. They honored Jensi at their most recent event @ Punchbowl Social on October 12th, 2022.

Please see the video of John Hutchinson's interview regarding books for counselors in training.

Distinguished Donors visit Maciej Nursing Lab

Jim and Ann Marie Maciej visited the Nursing Sciences department to learn more about how funds were utilized from the Maciej Nursing Advancement Fund.

Due to their generosity our faculty was able to participate in staff development for NCLEX and to present at and attend the national AACN conference in Dallas.

Thank you to our donors!
